Hello Parents,

I would like to start this week's newsletter with a word from Mr Sherman - our Head of English:

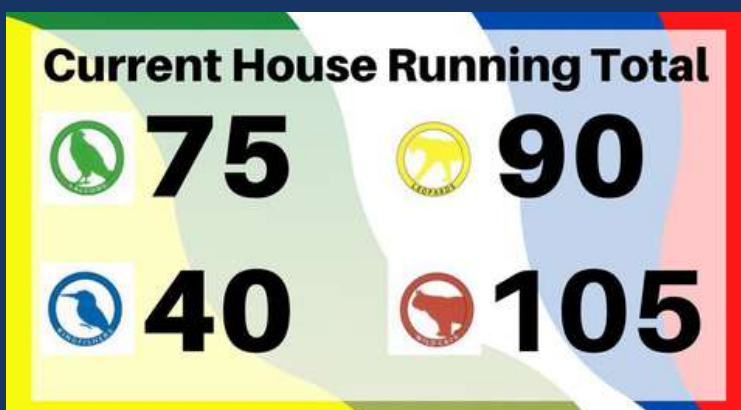

The first round of the Poetry Inter House Competition was a resounding success, with students from all houses showcasing their talent and passion for the written word. The event was held in the school art room, filled to capacity with excited students, teachers.

The variety of styles, themes, and language used was a testament to the creativity and diversity of the student body.

The judges, who were renowned poets and literature teachers, had a difficult task ahead of them, but they rose to the occasion, selecting the winners of the first round with precision and objectivity.

The competition was not just about the winners, however, all the students who participated in the competition were applauded for their bravery and hard work, and were praised for the impact their performances had on the audience.

The event was a huge success and the school is already looking forward to the next poetry competition, eager to see the next generation of young poets emerge. The Poetry Inter House Competition will be remembered as a shining example of what can be achieved when students are given the opportunity to express themselves and for their insightful and thought-provoking performances.
